

PHILADELPHIA RIOT.

We devote considerable space to-day to the particulars of this sad affair. This is a new chapter in our history; but the end is not yet. Elements are in motion which can hardly fail to rend our cities and large towns like the upheavings of a volcano. In this particular case it may be difficult to say who were the aggressors; nor is it very material, as both parties were doubtless seeking a provocation, ready to explode with the slightest touch, and the origin of the fray was at once swallowed up in the unparallelled excesses on either side. One thing is very clear, however: that there was culpable negligence on the part of the city authorities. It is a disgrace to our institutions that so numerous predatory warfare of that kind should be permitted to exist for the space of three days, without a serious adequate effort to put it down.

MR. CLAY UNDER BONDS.

The True Democrat, a few days since, occupied some two or three columns, duly illustrated by stirring capitals, setting forth all the technicalities of an obligation by which Mr. Clay was, in 1814, put under bonds to keep the peace! and then makes the following pathetic appeal to the "men of New England":

There is no such consideration about the kind of trees, which are appropriate to particular places as there should be. The Elm, when full grown, will cover with its branches an area of  $\frac{1}{2}$  acre in diameter. It is therefore unsuitable to be placed in a narrow street, or near to a fence unless shade is wanted in the enclosure. If taken care of it is a tree of rapid growth, and will spread its arms very wide.

The man in the yard of H. Loomis, Esq., should be examined by all, who wish to see what an Elm may become in a few years, and how near to buildings and to each other the trees may be placed.

There are varieties of the Maple, which are not attacked by the Borer. There are many varieties of the Oak, some of which are very beautiful. The Linden or Basswood growing alone is said to be handsome. We have not yet got a good specimen of the Mountain Ash, nor indeed a large specimen of the white and brown Ash in our village. More care in selecting, more care in transplanting, more care in nurturing them they are transplanted soon add much, very much, to the moral beauty of our village.

WHIG RALLY IN MILTON.

M., for the purpose of organizing a Clay Club, and to receive the report of the Delegates to the Baltimore Convention. A general audience will be expected.

BY THAT OLD COON.

Milton 15th May, 1844.

NOTICE.

The Rev. JOHN HASLAM, of Vermont, will preach in the Methodist Chapel in this place, this (Friday) evening, at half past seven.

NOTICE.

By the Rev. J. Haslam, Mr. Thomas Wm. King, who sought Mr. Clay's life, was recently appointed to an important foreign mission. Every Loco-Foco Senator voted for his confirmation, and the very number of the True Democrat opposing this vile attack upon Mr. Clay, announces Mr. King's appointment in terms of decided approbation, and almost every newspaper in the country opposed to Mr. C. has endorsed it as "excellent." According to which logic it is declared to be commendable to mediate murder, and outrage the peace; but infamy to yield obedience to the law, and when one cheek is smitten turn the other—as Mr. Clay did in this instance! The Democrat is welcome to all that can make out of such knavish misrepresentations.

The Hon. County Court is now in session at this place—Judge Bennett presiding.

FROM WASHINGTON.

It is currently reported here that Mr. Calhoun is about to retire from the cabinet forthwith. This is not improbable. The correspondent of the New York Evening Post says that both Mr. Calhoun and Mr. Wickliffe, the Post Master General, are about to resign.

The Tariff Bill was taken up in the House of Representatives on Friday, and after two speeches, we will be seen from the letter of our correspondent, was laid on the table by a vote of 105 to 99. A motion to reconsider this vote was lost by 99 to 103, so that the bill received its quietus. The Senate on Friday went early into executive session, the results of which have not reached us.

The letter of the Evening Post quoted above, contains also the following:

The president's friends, namely, those persons who expect from him, state "by authority" that never were two individuals such dear and true friends and men as Tyler and Calhoun.

THE CELEBRATED ETHIOPEAN SERENA-TERS. WILL give their last Grand Concert, and proceed on the 25th, very suddenly, to the great city of Washington, on the occasion of their annual subscription. Members of Congress began to discover that they had a valuable asset in the person of this young man, and as many new ones as ever favor his worth will call.

THE CELEBRATED FREDERICK DANDY JIM, the greatest performer on the Banjo, will be present at the grand concert of the Ethiopean Serenaders, on the 25th, very suddenly, and that if it were practicable the former would assist to a severance of the connection to-morrow.
